

Weather Research Center

5104 Caroline Houston, Texas 77004 Phone: 713-529-3076 Fax: 713-528-3538 E-mail: wrc@wxresearch.org

For Immediate Release

March 14, 2007

For information, contact: 713-529-3076

KPRC's Radar the Weather Dog decide to spend Spring Break at The Weather Museum's Weather Camp.

Houston - Radar attended The nation's first Weather Museum's Spring Weather Camp today. He participated with other campers in study how severe weather forms and about weather safety. Each camper made a severe weather report DVD in the WRC-TV studio with Radar at their side.

Radar is now working at the Weather Museum and his fans can come by and see him. His schedule will be posted at the Museum's web site. <http://www.wxresearch.org> soon. The museum will be having Weather Camps again this summer, these are day camps for students of all ages. Radar will also attend some of these camps as well.

Museum

Info: Learning about weather safety is a key element to the new John C. Freeman Weather Museum, which opened April 22 in the Houston Museum District. The new museum provides a fun and stimulating facility for people of all ages to learn about the weather, its history and public safety. The museum is located at 5104 Caroline in the Houston Museum District and is open 7 days per week.

Contact: (713) 529-3076 or www.weathermuseum.org.

Mission: WRC advances the science of weather and the knowledge of the weather's impact on the global community through research, prediction, and education in order to inspire America's next generation of scientists and engineers.

Mission: WRC advances the science of weather and the knowledge of the weather's impact on the global community through research, prediction, and education in order to inspire America's next generation of scientists and engineers.